DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF DIXON, BY ACT OF CITY COUNCIL.

Dixon Telegraph Sixtieth Year | DIXON, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY JULY 6, 1911. | Daily Twenty-Eighth Year No. 157

EXPLANATION MADE OF CEMETERY CONTRACT

NO FUNDS HANDLED BY TRUSTEE, WHO MERELY ISSUES THE DEEDS.

GOOD PROFIT FOR CITY ON DEAL

City Does Not Owe as Much as the Report of Auditors Would Indicate.

Inasmuch as the article printed in your issue of July 5th under the heading "City's Cemetery Debt Looks Like a Jonah," contains some assertions which are quite misleading and unfair, not only to the persons mentioned in the article, but to the members of the city council at the time the cemetery contract was made between the city and Mrs. Louise P. Steel, I wish to make a brief mention of the facts relating to the matter.

At the time this contract was made in 1903, the city needed more land for cemetery purposes and had no ready funds with which to make the purchase. Negotiations were entered into which resulted in the making of the contract for the purchase by the city of the twenty-four and one-half acres of land adjoining the present cemetery, and then owned by Louise P. Steel for $9323.00. As the city had but $1,000.000 to pay on the purchase price, it was agreed that the land should be deeded to a trustee, and that the city should take full charge of fixing the price of and making the sale of all lots, and the city officials have always done this and collected all the money derived from sales.

The tract of land agreed to be purchased by the contract was subdivided for the city by the present county surveyor into 1380 lots. Of this number 187 lots have been sold and paid for and $6742.68 has been received by the city officials in payment for these 187 lots, or an average price of $36.05 per lot. The city has retained $1660.62 of this sum and $5082.06 has been paid to Mrs. Steel to apply on the contract.

There remain unsold or unpaid for 1193 lots, which at the average price obtained for those already sold will bring $42948.00. Assuming that the lots to be sold in the future will bring the average price obtained for those in the past and the lots remaining are equally as desirable, it will be seen that the city will actually derive approximately $49690.00 for the land it purchased for $9323, making a profit to the city of over $40,000.00. If any one has been "Jonahed" as stated in your article, Mrs. Steele would seem to be the victim.

The contract provides that each person purchasing a cemetery lot shall pay to the city clerk the purchase price as fixed by the city, and upon paying the purchase price to the clerk, the latter issues an order directing the trustee to issue a deed to the purchaser of the lot. It will thus be seen that all of the funds derived from the sale of the lots are paid direct to the city clerk and to no one else. The trustee has no authority to issue a deed for any lot until an order is presented to him from the city clerk and no deeds have ever been issued by the trustee excepting upon the clerk's order and no money has ever been received by the trustee for any of the lots sold.

On account of the fact that the city did not have funds with which to pay for the land, it was provided by the contract that the purchase price for the lots should be kept by the city clerk and treasurer until the end of each quarter year, when a settlement was to be made with Mrs. Steel and three-fourths of the amount derived from the sale of the lots was to be paid to her to apply on the contract and the remaining one-fourth of the purchase price was to be retained by the city. This provision has always been fulfilled to the letter.

The contract in question was not drawn by me as stated in your published article, but it is practically identical in its terms with all other contracts of purchase for city real estate or farm lands and provides that the amount remaining from time to time unpaid shall draw interest at the rate of fie per cent per annum, payable annually. The fact that the contract provides for such interest at the rate of five per cent per anual, irregular or unfair to any one concerned, but is usual and customary, although the rate of interest on such contracts is ordinarily higher than five per cent.

The article is further incorrect in stating that there has been paid to the trustee the sum of $5727.46 to apply on this contract. Nothing has ever been paid to the trustee for such purposes, and the vouchers in the hands of the city clerk and treasurer will show that all of the payments due to Mrs. Steel have been made to her direct and receipts signed by her personally are on file in the city clerk's office, and the records of the city will show that the one-fourthshare to be retained by the city has always been so retained and has never passed out of the control of the city.

It is true that there is now due and unpaid from purchasers of lots about $2175.00 but this is the fault of no one but the city officials for they have sole charge of the sale of lots and neither Mrs. Steel nor the trustee have ever sold or attempted to sell a lot and they have no authority to sell them, even if they wished to do so; and if the city officials have sold lots to persons who have failed to pay for them it is through no fault of either the trustee or Mrs. Steel.

The auditors might have stated in their report that the city has actually received $1660.62 as their one-fourth share of the purchase price derived from the sale of lots, which amount might have been applied on the contract with Mrs. Steel, but that amount has never been applied and is now either in the hands of the treasurer or has been used for other purposes, although the auditors have failed to show what has become of it.

The city clerk and also the city treasurer each keep a careful record of each lot sold and the amount derived from such sale. A record is also kept by the city sexton showing each sale, and the quarterly settlements which are made with Mrs. Steel show an additional record of sales and receipts therefrom, so that the exact condition of the city cemetery affairs is always obtainable by reference to any of these four sources.

The auditors recommend "that the trustee report annually in the future, but inasmuch as the trustee has never received any of the funds or money from the lots excepting a fee of fifty cents paid to him by the city for each deed issued, amounting in all to $93.50 during the eight years since the contract was made or less than $12.00 per year, it would seem to be a useless and unnecessary formality for him to make an annual report merely announcing the fact that he had received fifty cents per deed for each deed he had issued

CORPORATIONS WILL HAVE TO PAY TAXES

ON THEIR CAPITAL STOCK, ACCORDING TO BOARD OF REVIEW.

MAY ALSO TAX THE PARSONAGES

Only One Lee County Corporation Has Thus Far Reported on Capital Stock.

All corporations in Lee county will have to pay taxes on their capital stock, according to a decision of the board of review, which decision was reached after much study of the law and court decisions and the reception of opinions from Attorney General Stead and States Attorney Edwards.

The statute provides that mercantile and manufacturing corporations shall be exempt from assessment on their capital stock, but the Illinois supreme court has decided that the exemption in the statute is unconstitutional, the supreme court's ruling being nearly always against exemption in taxation.

Will Decide Value.

Accordingly, the officials of all corporations of the kind in the county, will be notified at once of this ruling of the court and the decision of the board of review, and will be given an opportunity of filing a report, showing the value of their capital stock. But one such report has thus far been made, by an Amboy corporation, and in the report the stock is valued at 20 per cent above par.

The board will, before fixing the assessment on this nature of stock decide as to its value. There was some discussion as to whether or not the board should look into the assessment on capital stock in past years, and require the payment of back taxes, but the members of the board have decided that in some cases such a policy would result in the confiscation of the properties and therefore decided not to follow such a course.

May Tax Parsonages.

The board is also considering the advisability of assessing the parsonage properties in the county. Although the statute exempts this class of property, the supreme court has also decided the exemption to be unconstitutional and many boards of review in the state are assessing the property. The local board has reached no decision in the matter as yet.

RAIN IS WELCOMED BY THE RAILROADS

DANGER OF FIRES IN FIELDS ALONG TRACKS BECAME MENANCING.

The rain is welcomed as much by the railway men as by the farmers, as the extreme dryness of the past week or more made the danger of fires along the tracks very acute.

Sparks from an engine on the Burlington road set fire to a wheat field east of Prophetstown and destroyed the field. Neighbors turned out and plowed around the fields as much as possible, keeping the fire from running.

DROVE INTO RIG THEN DISAPPEARED

NEITHER OF PARTIES MOST INTERESTED IN ACCIDENT ARE KNOWN.

A buggy, belonging to someone, who at press time was unknown to the police and who at that time had not called for the rig, was badly broken by a surrey driven by someone whose identity has not been established, at about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The accident happened in front of Vaile & O'Malley's store, where the single rig was tied. The strange driver attempted to pass between the single rig and a passing street car, with the result that one rear wheel of the single rig was completely demolished and a spring was broken. The surrey escaped damage and the driver, after seeing the damage done, applied the whip and got away as quickly as possible. The police are now working on the case.

BOARD ADVISES BRICK PAVING

INSTRUCTS CITY ATTORNEY TO DRAW UP ORDINANCE FOR IMPROVEMENT.

The board of local improvements held a meeting this morning at the city hall, at which time a public hearing was given on the Second street-Commercial alley brick job. But one objector was present, and after the meeting the board passed a resolution favoring the project and instructing the city attorney to prepare the ordinance for the next improvement.

IN INTEREST OF FREEPORT LINE

MEN FROM THAT CITY WORKING UP INTEREST ALONG ROUTE.

The Freeport papers of Wednesday evening state that J. W. Miller, Jacob Weiss and Louis Dickes of that city left for Dixon in an auto yesterday afternoon in the interest of the proposed Dixon-Freeport interurban line. However, none of the local business men who are interested in such a project were visited by the men and it is not believed they reached here, but that they spent the afternoon in the intermediate country, talking the proposition, and getting the sentiment of the people. The Freeport promoters are desirous of getting their project under way before the Rockford-Dixon proposition is brought to a deadway.

DRAINAGE CASE TO SUPREME COURT

PROCEETDINGS TO THIS EFFECT WERE TRANSACTED IN COUNTY COURT.

The Montmorency drainage case will go to the state supreme court as a result of proceedings in the Lee county court this morning. Attorney Sheldon of Sterling represented the objectors, and asked leave to file amended objection, which leave was granted, but Attorney Erwin of this city then moved to strike all objections from the file, which motion was concurred in by Judge Scott. Whereupon Attorney Sheldon prayed an appeal to the supreme court, the prayer being allowed and the bond fixed at $150.

He states that he arrived in the city before noon and had a barber chair set up and a shop opened before evening of the same day. That was in the room now occupied by Wheeler's barber shop and he conducted a barber business there for 37 years, selling out to Mr. Wheeler.

RAIN HELPED TO RELIEVE SUFFERING

HUMID ATMOSPHERE, HOWEVER, PREVENTS MUCH IMPROVEMENT TODAY.

LIGHTNING HIT CHURCH SPIRE

Ripped Some Shingles From Steeple of St. Paul's Lutheran Church; Cooler Tomorrow.

The torrid wave, under which the people of this vicinity have been suffering for several days, was temporarily broken last evening by a local thundershower, which took an exceptionally long time in materializing, and which was accompanied by much wind and lightning.

But very little rain fell, and while the cool winds moderated the atmosphere, conditions this morning were not much improved, the thermometers showing a difference of but five degrees below the readings of the same time Wednesday morning. Today the air has been very humid and suffering has not been materially decreased.

However, the weather man promises more relief, for he says the section may be visited by local thunderstorms today and tonight, and that tomorrow it will be much cooler.

Struck Church Steeple.

Although there was a great deal of lightning with last night's storm, as far as known but little damage was done. The steeple of the Lutheran church was struck by a bolt at about 12 o'clock. The electricity followed the lightning rod to the base of the steeple roof where, evidently, the cable was broken, for a number of shingles were torn off. However, the damage is not great.

Reports from the surrounding country are to the effect that the wind blew down some of the grain and corn, but not so badly as to hurt them in any way. The rain was also especially welcome to many potato growers.

Through her attorneys, Dixon & Dixon, Mrs. Anna B. Taylor has commenced suit for divorce from her husband, Henry A. Taylor of this city, the declaration being filed yesterday. Mrs. Taylor alleges extreme and repeated cruelty.

BREWERY CO. TO SUE CITY AND WATER CO.

DIRECTORS PREPARING SUIT TO DEMAND $35,000 DAMAGES FOR FIRE LOSS.

CLAIM LACK OF WATER PRESSURE

Recent Tests Said to Show That the Water Company Is Not Living Up to Contract.

Through the directions of the old Dixon Brewing company, (whose plant was destroyed by fire April 16, it is announced that suit will be filed within a short time for damages to the amount of $35,000, the defendants in the suit to be the City of Dixon and the Dixon Water company.

The directors of the company will allege that the great damage to the plant was due to the lack of water pressure, and that had the pressure been what the city had contracted for, the entire brewery would not have been destroyed. The directors have had several meetings with reference to the matter and have engaged attorneys, whose names they do not divulge at present. It is said that a well known firm of local attorneys have been engaged to handle the case and that two out of town lawyers of reputation will assist.

Story of Fire.

It will be remembered that the brewery caught fire early on the morning of April 6. The statements of the firemen and those who were at the fire soon after it started all agree that there was a noticeable lack of pressure at the time of the alarm, and the statements issued at that time vary in the matter of time before the pressure was sufficient, the times being given varying from thirty minutes to nearly an hour.

Since that time, however, there has been a change in the ownership of the brewery, many of the former stockholders having been bought out. However, as former directors, they will be plaintiffs in the suit and it is announced that the preparation of the declaration is now under way and it will be filed in time for the September term of court, when the plaintiffs wish to have the case tried.

More Poor Pressure.

In connection with this it may be said that since the brewery fire, and the threatened holding up of the bill for hydrant rental by the city council at that time, the commissioner of health and safety has been making regular tests of the pressure supplied by the water company, and the report is that these tests have not shown any material betterment of conditions.

It is known that Monday evening at 8 o'clock the gauge was attached to the hydrant at the city hall, and that a pressure of but 45 pounds was shown, which it is maintained is not strong enough to force a stream of water to the highest building in range of the water system.

Residents of the southwestern part of the city maintain that the service has been particularly provoking and several complaints were made today that the pressure last evening was not sufficient for the patrons of the water company to secure enough water with which to prepare supper.

Further complaints are being received from the north side of the river also. One water user, who resides directly opposite a fire hydrant, states that it was absolutely impossible at times for him to get and water at all from his faucet for some time last night, and that conditions have been bad for some time.

HEATED SPELL STAYS

One of Most Intense in Annals of Weather Bureau.

Highest Temperature Reported at Des Moines—Eastern Cities Are Cooler.

New York, July 6.—Wednesday seemed a better day than Tuesday to the multitudes at work in the built-up boroughs of the town and the deaths and prostrations were more. The humidity was high, fluctuating near 80 per cent. The mercury reached 92.

Today is the fifth in the heated spell, which, considering the wide stretch of territory it covers, is one of the most intense and persistent in the annals of the weather bureau.

Des Moines topped the list of tophet towns with 106 in the shade; Kansas City and Oklahoma were blistered by 104 degrees; Dodge City and Chicago panted at 102. The maximum west, north, northeast, south and southwest were all taller than that of this neighborhood; maybe because they represented temperatures taken much closer to earth. Pittsburg had 96, Washington 98, Boston 94, Albany 98, Louisville, 96 and Philadelphia 94. At Helena, Mont., the lowest temperature was 44, and at Havre 46.

INDIANA FARMERS IDLE

Intense Heat Makes It Unsafe to Work Horses in Sun.

Indianapolis, July 6. — An unprecedented condition exists in many of the counties of the state as a result of the heat. Many farmers have abandoned their work in the field because the heat is so intense that the horses cannot be worked to wagons and plows. The reflection from the sun-dried earth is added to the heat of the sun and many horses have died in harness.

There is hardly a county in which there have not been some deaths and many prostrations from heat. In many cities water is scarce and ice cannot be had. The corn crop is suffering from the protracted heat without rain.

Ice Shortage at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 6.—An ice famine confronted Cleveland while the mercury in the weather man's thermometer was establishing a new summer's heat record. At 3 p. m. the official thermometer recorded 96 degrees.

TRAIN HITS AN AUTOMOBILE

Accident May Result in the Extermination of the Family of Henry C. Gordee of Chicago—Sad End to an Outing.

Chicago, July 6.—Mrs. Emma Gordee, who, with her husband, Henry C Gordee, 5643 West Ontario street, Austin, Ill., was injured when their automobile was run down by a Chicago Burlington and Quincy railroad train at Brookfield, in which their two children—Helen, three years old, and Henry C., Jr., four weeks old, were killed died at 12:30 a. m. at the Thornton Villa sanitarium, LaGrange.

Mr. Gordee, it was reported over the long distance phone, was in a critical condition, and the surgeons were doubtful if he would survive his injuries and the shock caused by the death of his wife and children.

Mr. Gordee had taken his family for an outing, and they were returning home late in the afternoon when the accident occurred at the Maplewood avenue crossing in Brookfield.

The auto was hurled from the track, a complete wreck, and Gordee, his wife and infant son, were tossed into a ditch twenty-five feet away. Little Helen was pinned under the wrecked auto, and crushed to death against the side of the ditch.

The train was stopped and trainmen and passengers went to the assistance of the injured. Gordee and his wife were not told that their children had been killed, it being feared that the shock would prove fatal. They were hurried to the Thornton Villa sanitarium in LaGrange and immediately placed upon the operating table. Surgeons worked over Mrs. Gordee until after midnight in the hopes of saving her life.

Gordee was injured internally, and it is feared that he, too, will die. For several hours physicians kept the news of the death of his wife and children from him but shortly after 7 a. m. during a brief period of consciousness, he insisted on knowing the truth, and the nurse told him.

Lincoln Told a Story.

At one time a friend complained to President Lincoln that a certain cabinet officer was administering his office with unusual energy with the hope of securing the presidential nomination.

"That reminds me," said Mr. Lincoln, "that my brother and I were once plowing a field with a lazy horse. Just at times he rushed across the field so fast that I could hardly keep up with him. At last I found an enormous chin fly on him and knocked it off. Now, I am not going to make that mistake a second time. If the secretary has a chin fly on him I am not going to knock it off, if it will only make his department go."

The Clear Infinity.

That which we foolishly call vastness is, rightly considered, not more wonderful, not more impressive, than that which we insolently call littleness, and the infinity of God is not mysterious, it is only unfathomable; not concealed, but incomprehensible; it is a clear infinity, the darkness of the pure, unsearchable sea.—Ruskin's "Modern Painters."

Revenge by Proxy.

Dramatic Notes

FORTUNE IN MONEY AND LAUGH

Olympic Theater Audiences Grow Rich in Latter While "Get-Rich-Quick" Wallingford Amasses a Fortune.

Millions of dollars and millions of laughs are being made nightly in George M. Cohan's highly smashing comedy, "Get-Rich-Quick- Wallingford," at the Olympic Theater in Chicago. Interest in the "get-rich-quick" operations of the character so uniquely portrayed by Ralph Stuart, is increasing as the comedy enters the eighth month in its present record run. As Wallingford coins the dollars by the manufacture of carpet tacks, those who crowd the theater at each performance grow rich through the multitude of opportunities afforded for good hearty laughs.

At no time does the comedy relax—in fact, it is amusing from beginning to end. In a short time half a million people will have learned how a gigantic fortune is made by the man who combines business and love, for in this remarkable comedy the element of love enters strongly in the character of Fanny Jasper, the Battlesburg stenographer, played by Myrtle Tannehill. Wallingford's chief assistant, Blackie Daw, played by George Parsons, is up to the standard in creating amusement for the audiences.

Mrs. A. L. Barlow and son, Edwin, spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday at Clinton, Ia., and enjoyed a trip on the Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Donohue and Mss Mabelle Metcalf of Chicago spent the Fourth at the home of Mrs. M. Jordan.

MENDOTA MAN SUFFERED INJURIES

John Jannsen of Mendota suffered a severe shaking up and a number of painful bruises Tuesday when he jumped from a moving train. He had boarded a north bound train in mistake for a south bound train, and when he discovered his mistake he jumped from the moving train. He miscalculated the speed of the train and when he landed could not retain his footing.

DOUBLE DROWNING IN RIVER AT ROCKFORD

A double drowning occurred in Rock river above Rockford on the afternoon of the Fourth. The unfortunates were Charles S. Johnson and Emil Sjoquist, the former about 30 years of age and the latter still in his teens, both residents of Rockford.

They were members of a party of men in camp a few miles up the river from Rockford. In the afternoon the campers went in bathing, but few of the number could swim. The two who lost their lives waded beyond their depth and went down before help could reach them.

Attorney Frank O'Malley returned to Chicago this morning after a visit here.

IDENTITY OF DROWNED MAN ESTABLISHED

The mystery of the nude floater found in Rock river near Rockford a week ago is finally cleared up by the finding of a suit of clothes on the bank of the stream below the city. After some difficulty the clothes were identified as belonging to Wm. A. Malmberg, who was found to have been missing since the latter part of June from the place where he had been rooming. Malmberg owned the house where he roomed, reserving a room for his own use from the people to whom he leased the place.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Derr and daughters, Grace and Myra, and Miss Hazel Espy enjoyed a launch ride to Grand Detour Tuesday.

ROAST IN BIG REFRIGERATOR

Death Comes in Horrible Form to Two Engineers.

EXPLOSION JAMS DOOR SHUT

Imprisoned Men Guide Rescuers In Their Work but Are Dying When They Stagger Out of Great Box.

New Orleans, July 6. — Two engineers, from within an almost air-tight and sound-proof cage, signalled to their would-be rescuers how to direct their efforts, while they were roasting slowly to death in the big refrigerator of the National Packing company, which was partially destroyed by fire.

The men tapped upon the place where the walls of the refrigerator were thinnest, but their efforts were vain and they staggered out dying when the door finally was burst open.

The men are John Corwin, chief engineer of the Armour Packing plant here, and Fred Beeker, chief engineer of the National plant. A third man, John Wall, ar employe of the National, also was in the refrigerator, and was seriously burned, but physicians say there is a chance for his recovery.

Corwin had been called in to help Beeker locate a supposed defect in the ammonia tubes. An explosion occurred. It jammed the door so that the fastenings would not work.

OUTBREAK IN LISBON

Seamen Revolt and There Is Severe Fighting in Streets.

London, July 6.—An agency dispatch from Badajoz, Spain, that purports to be a relay from Lisbon that escaped the censor, asserts that there has been a monarchical outbreak in Lisbon and severe fighting in the streets. Seamen from the barracks are said to have revolted at the instigation of royalist agitators.

The populace, armed with revolvers and knives, followed the sailors until the garrison was called out. After a sharp conflict the mutineers were quelled. The city is represented to be in a state of extreme panic and the government is rigidly censoring all telegrams sent from Lisbon. Monarchist leaders are said to have received another $85,000 from Brazil.

Little Dr. Holmes.

Thomas Wentworth Higginson in speaking of Dr. Holmes said:

"He was a very small man physically. Though one of the greatest physicians in the country and one of the greatest wits and writers, he had almost a boyish appearance. I remember when he returned to Harvard to attend a meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa he had a poem to recite, and he had to stand on a table so that all might see him.

"Dr. Holmes had studied in Paris—quite a remarkable thing in those days—and his services as a consultant in serious cases were always in demand. In one serious case the patient was a woman. As her own family physician entered the room with Dr. Holmes, who had been called in, the patient turned around in bed and said indignantly:

"'Doctor, why do you bring that boy into this room?' 'Why,' expostulated the family physician, 'that's Dr. Holmes!' 'He isn't a doctor,' answered the patient peevishly. 'Take him out!'

"And Dr. Holmes had to leave the room, much to his annoyance. Then the family physician got a chance to explain matters, and Dr. Holmes went in, but, as he confessed to me afterward, with very bad grace. He didn't like to be taken for a boy even by a very sick woman."—New York Tribune.

Seeing Your Own Brain.

In Professor Lloyd's work, "The End of the World," the experiment of seeing one's own brain is interesting. The experimenter, with a lighted candle, enters a perfectly dark room. He stands before a black curtain or wall, so that details cannot be seen by the candle's feeble light. The candle is moved laterally to and fro in front of the eyes, keeping it about six inches from the face and just below the tip of the nose. In a few minutes something, as if a thin mist, seems to grow before the eyes. It becomes more definite and gains outline, and then soon one may distinguish the venation and the division of the brain. The theory is that the moving light produces a counter irritation of the nerves that conduct the impression of sight to the brain. The current is reversed, and the brain is pictured on the retina. Then the impression returns through the nerves and affects the brain so that we see it.

Shepherd and Sheep.

A minister was once addressing a Sunday school. It was a Sunday school of little children, and the minister in his address desired to compare himself to a shepherd and his congregation to the shepherd's flocks.

"What are these beautiful animals?" he said, pointing to a drawing on the blackboard.

"Sheep, sheep!" chorused the children.

"And the cloaked figure in the foreground—what is he?"

"A shepherd!" the children cried.

"Exactly," agreed the minister, beaming with satisfaction. "And now, dear children, can you tell me what it is that the shepherd does for the sheep?"

A score of little mouths opened wide, and a score of treble voices cried shrilly:

"He shears 'em!"

Quaint Cures of Old.

For epilepsy wear a ring made from a coffin ring and take seven drops of blood from the tail of a cat. These remedies are equally efficacious either separately or in conjunction. For toothache carry in the pocket the tooth of a soldier killed in battle or eat mouse nibbled bread or trim your nails on a Friday. To cure warts, rub a potato and give the potato to a pig, or rub them with a piece of chalk, then put it in a little bag and throw it across crossroads. Holding the affected finger in the ear of a cat for half an hour was reckoned an excellent remedy for a felon.

Origin of the Word "Farm."

The origin of the word "farm" is as follows: In the Saxons' time the estates which the lords of manors granted to the freemen were at first but for a term of years, with a render of a rent, which in those days was of corn and other produce. The leases so made were called fermes or farmes, but times ensuing turned the produce into money and terms of years to terms of life and inheritance.—Westminster Gazette.

Hopeless.

"I refuse your hand, Mr. Squash," the young girl said coldly, "for two reasons."

"Name them!" Squash cried hopefully. "Name them, and perhaps—who knows"—

"They are," she interrupted, "yourself and another man."—Exchange.

Passerby—I thought you were blind.

Mendicant—Well, boss, times is so hard and competition is so great that even a blind man has to keep his eyes open nowadays if he wants to do any business at all.

Holding His Own.

"You've said it. Why, he holds fast to everything he gets his clutches on and even bolts down his dinner!"

A Sticker.

PRESIDENT BACK IN WHITE HOUSE

His Trip to Indiana Was a Very Strenuous One.

RECEPTION WAS ENTHUSIASTIC

Former Vice President Fairbanks Tenders Him Support of Hoosier State in Campaign of 1912.

Washington, July 6. — After his strenuous and very wearing trip to Indiana, President Taft is back again in the White House.

The president was kept busy from the time he entered the state Monday afternoon until he said good-bye to the Hoosiers in the Union Station at Indianapolis. In spite of the discomforts the president feels amply repaid by the enthusiastic reception which the Indiana people accorded him. It was a great surprise to him when the affair at Indianapolis took a political turn at the dinner given in the president's honor by the Marion club, a virile political organization, with a membership of over 1,200 young Republicans.

Reference was made by the speakers to the campaign of 1908 and the support of the Republicans of the state was formally pledged to Mr. Taft. Former Vice President Fairbanks tendered the state's support to the president for re-election and while this was not unexpected the president's friends were agreeably surprised when Robert Davidson, president of the Marion club, assured the president that the Indiana Republicans were ready to follow his leadership in the next campaign.

The Marion club has been generally regarded as a Beveridge organization. It has usually lined up behind Beveridge in all his campaigns. While Senator Beveridge was an enthusiastic supporter of Canadian reciprocity from the very day that the president's message was sent to congress, it was generally believed in political circles that Mr. Beveridge would be found supporting his insurgent friend, Senator LaFollette, for the presidency. But it is very clear now that if he decides to enlist under the LaFollette banner he will be without the substantial support in Indiana.

ARMY BREAKING CAMP

Dispersion of Carter's Maneuver Division Is Begun.

San Antonio, Tex., July 6.—The dispersion of General W. H. Carter's maneuver division began with the departure of the Thirteenth infantry for Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Colonel Daniel McCarthy, chief quartermaster of the division, started a rate-cutting war between the railroads by calling for bids.

The contract for moving the Ninth cavalry to Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., was awarded to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, for approximately $40,000. It cost $45,000 to bring it here. A question of rates has postponed the award for the transportation of the Fourth artillery to Fort D. A. Russell.

AMELIA E. BARR HURT

Newburgh, N. Y., July 6. — While Mrs. Amelia E. Barr, the aged authoress, of Cherry Croft, Cornwell, was passing from one room to another in her home, she caught her toe in a rug on the floor and was thrown heavily.

She suffered numerous bruises and cut her face and head so that doctors who were called to attend her, were compelled to take eight stitches to close the wounds. It is not thought serious results will follow unless complications set in.

Cincinnati, O., July 6. — George R. Balch, president of the Cincinnati Realty company, son-in-law of the late President M. D. SENATE PLANS HARDER WORK

Will Hold Longer Sessions to Hasten Adjournment.

CANADIAN BILL VOTE NEARER

Senator Burton Makes Notable Speech in Support of Bill—Senator LaFollette Prepares for Long Talk.

Washington, July 6.—It looks probable now that congress will adjourn not later than Aug. 1. There is a general disposition in the senate to shape its business to that end.

In line with this plan the senate unanimously agreed to meet an hour earlier each day and to remain in session seven hours.

It is likely that within a few days Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, will ask the senate to fix a date by unanimous consent for a vote on the Canadian bill. The insurgent senators declare they have no intention to obstruct and, with a few speeches yet to come, they will be ready for a vote on the Canadian bill. There was a general feeling around the senate that that body was nearer to an adjournment vote than has been generally believed.

Senator LaFollette will probably occupy more time than any of the other insurgents. The estimates of the time he will require to deliver his speech vary from three days to a week. The senator himself is non-committal as usual. Senator Cummins closed his address. He will probably figure in the running debate from time to time, but will not make another set speech.

Senator Burton made a notable speech in support of the Canadian reciprocity bill. He was subjected to a fusillade of questions and his speech occupied more than three hours.

Representative Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, conferred with the leaders. He told them that the house cotton bill would be ready for the senate in about two weeks. He stated further that the ways and means committee would not remain idle. Confirming what Speaker Clark said, Chairman Underwood said that the committee would immediately take up the other schedules of the Payne-Aldrich law and revise them and send them over to the senate. This work will go on, he says, as long as congress is in session.

Washington, July 6.—Pope Pius X, in an autograph letter received by the apostolic delegate to Washington, applauds the lead taken by the United States in the world-wide campaign for international peace. A copy of the letter was forwarded to the White House.

It is expected the president, because of his well known peace views, will reply to the cordial sentiments of the ruler of the Catholic church.

COUNSEL ENTER PACKERS' PLEAS

"Not Guilty" Contention Made in Magnates' Behalf.

DEFENDANTS NOT IN COURT

Judge Carpenter Makes Proceedings Brief Because of Heat and Refuses to Change Date Set for Trial.

Chicago, July 6. — Counsel representing J. Ogden Armour, Edward Tilden and other packers, indicted for violating the Sherman anti-trust act, appeared before Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States district court and entered pleas of not guilty for their clients.

The packers did not appear in court. While the necessity of their appearance was in some slight doubt, it was generally agreed between counsel and the court that if any technicality should be found which would necessitate their being on hand they would appear personally in the fall.

Date of the trial, set for Nov. 20 some time ago, was unchanged by the court. The proceedings in court took about five minutes. John S. Miller, George T. Buckingham, Ralph Crews and other counsel representing the packers entered the pleas on behalf of their clients. These were accepted by the court and ordered spread on the records.

After the pleas were entered James H. Wilkerson, counsel for the government, sought to raise the question as to whether the proceedings would be clouded because of the nonappearance personally of the defendants.

"It is too hot to hear any arguments," said Judge Carpenter, "and if there is anything in the law or supreme court decisions which make such a thing necessary I understand counsel agree with the court that the defendants will appear personally at a later date."

The government attorney then sought to have the date of the trial set earlier.

"I understand that Pierce Butler, one of the government's attorneys, could not be here until after October," said Judge Carpenter, "and as the matter had to go over until November I selected a date convenient for the court. I see no reason for changing that time."

PRIVATE.

There are no diseases so destructive to the health, happiness and prosperity of man as Lost Vital Powers, Blood Poison, Syphillis, Stricture, Drains, Losses, Discharges, Urinary Troubles and other diseases. Such diseases rarely cause death, but they produce a condition of mental suffering that is worse than death. There are no diseases about which physicians in general know so little and treat so carelessly. Because the subject is so delicate—and frequently so disagreeable—competent physicians are loath to handle it, and the same delicacy on the part of many patients causes their treatment to be neglected.

Beggars of Paris.

Not a few Paris beggars have become historical. Years ago there was a female mendicant without legs and with only one arm who could by a trick in her breathing produce in her interior a sound like the tick of a pendulum. "Listen, ladies and gentlemen," she used to exclaim. "I have a clock in my stomach!" Her gaping auditors used thereupon to apply an ear to her back. It was true. There was a clock inside her. They could hear it tick. Formerly at one end of the Pont Neuf there sat an old blind man, accompanied by a poodle. Enveloped in a large overcoat with seven plaits, he did nothing all day but keep a pair of expressionless eyes directed toward heaven and shake his tin money box from time to time. It was a tradition in Paris that he had given his daughter a dowry of 300,000 francs on the occasion of her marriage to a notary and that in the evening after rattling his money box all day the old man could often be seen in a box at the opera, to which he had driven in his carriage.—London Globe.

Contrary Misfortunes.

"Jaggsby certainly does have all kinds of trouble."

"What is the matter with him?"

"He got himself an automobile, and it blew up. Then he got an aeroplane."

"What happened to that?"

"It blew down."—Baltimore American.

Sarcastic.

"John," said a father to his son one day when he caught him shaving the down off his upper lip, "don't throw your shaving water out where there are any barefooted boys about or they might get their feet pricked."

Persiflage In the Kitchen.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

To Treat Seasickness.

A naval hospital ship surgeon has a remedy for seasickness—a concoction of lemon and ginger taken in the form of lemon soda and ginger ale, or a dash of seltzer may be added to a little lemon juice and Jamaica ginger. The doctor's idea is that the lemon causes a greater secretion of the gastric juice and that the ginger serves as a stimulant, the need of which can be best appreciated by the victim. It is not pretended that it will prove effective for everybody. It should be taken in small doses as soon as trouble seems to be approaching, although it may be of some use at a well advanced stage. Uninviting as the beverage may seem, it can be made after a little experimenting so that it is very agreeable. The lemon juice and ginger is not as palatable as the soda, but has been found to give better results.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

How to Prevent Finger Cracks.

The troublesome cracks that sometimes come in the fingers near the nails are best treated by applying a small piece of surgeon's plaster over the place until healed. The cracks can be prevented by frequently soaking the finger ends in warm oil, and oil of some kind should be applied immediately after taking the hands out of water. These cracks are quite different from chapped hands and require different treatment.

RECALL IS SUSTAINED.

Those who hope to defeat the Illinois commission government law on the ground that its recall provision is invalid, will receive no encouragement from the recent decision of the Texas supreme court, which has passed on this question.

The Texas court, while not undertaking to state whether state officers can be recalled, lays down the proposition that the legislature can attach this condition to offices which it creates. In the same connection, the majority opinion of the court remarks that the recall is not inconsistent with the principles of republican government.

In view of the fact that the Texas constitution is similar to that of Illinois and the opinions of its courts usually are in line with the Illinois supreme court, the Texas opinion on the recall is important to cities in this state. The opinion was given in a decision to test the charter of Dallas.

RECOVERING FROM SEVERE BEATING

GEORGE RENE, WHO WAS IN A FIGHT AT SUBLETTE, IS AT COUNTY FARM.

A report was circulated today to the effect that George Rene, who was hurt in a drunken fight at Sublette Monday night and who was taken to the county farm, has died from the injuries he received. However, investigation proves that this was untrue, and that the injured man is getting along very satisfactorily.

Rene became involved in a drunken melee at Sublette Monday evening from which he emerged, or rather was carried, with a broken leg and fractured nose. His pocketbook had suffered like fate and as he is a stranger here, he was taken to the county farm for treatment.

He has entered no complaint against his assailants, nor has anyone else, and the officials are waiting until he recovers sufficiently from his injuries to make such complaint before any legal action is taken.

GOOD PROOF THAT HE IS A MUTE

FELLOW PRISONERS TELL STORY OF MAN RELEASTD FROM COUNTY JAIL.

Henry Stanley, the mute, who was arrested some time ago for begging in the city and was sent to the county jail as a vagrant under a 30 days sentence, was released from that institution yesterday, his term having expired. It was thought at the time he was arrested that he was shamming regarding his muteness, but his fellow prisoners in the county jail relate many things that tend to show that he was honest in his contention. One of the laughable features of his life regarded the care of a pet mouse which he kept in the pocket of his shirt. The prisoners say that one day the mouse got away and finally crawled up the inside of his trouser leg. Had he been able to yell his companions say he surely would have made some noise, but they maintain that all he did was to jump around and grab.

WILL REMAIN IN WEST.

Daniel Maloney, who in company with a number of other Dixonites, went to Billings, Mont., some time ago, has decided to remain in the west. He writes friends here that he has secured an excellent position in a beet sugar factory there and has started to work.

Music of "The Lost Chord."

The music of "The Lost Chord" was composed under most touching conditions. Arthur Sullivan was watching by the bed of his dying brother, Frederick. One night shortly before death the invalid sank into a peaceful slumber. Arthur, who attended his brother day and night, took the opportunity to read, and it happened that his eyes fell on Adelaide Anne Procter's poem, "The Lost Chord." The verses impressed him greatly, and music appropriate to them suggested itself to his mind. Taking a sheet of music paper, he began to write, and so absorbed was he in his task that he sat hour after hour working at it until the song was completed. Probably the acute emotional conditions under which the music was composed account largely for the power to touch the emotions which undoubtedly "The Lost Chord" possesses.—George Leon Varney in National Magazine.

A Go as You Please Railway.

The Quest-Etat railway is a standing joke in Paris on account of its slipshod ways. They tell there this story of an incident which happened when M. Briand was premier:

A Russian prince was in Brittany and wanted to come up to Paris. He telegraphed to his secretary: "Shall arrive Invalides tomorrow 8 a. m. Don't want accident to train. See Briand about it." The secretary called on the prime minister, who was most affable. "It is not the general custom on the Quest-Etat to avoid accidents," he said, "but I will ask the director to see what can be done." The express arrived safely without the smallest mishap, but six hours and a half late, during all which time the Russian prince's secretary had been waiting on the platform.

His Three Questions.

"I'll just bet you cigars for the crowd," said one of a party of prominent men to one of the number who was bragging of what he could do, "that you can't answer 'yes' to any three questions I ask you."

"Done," said the boasting one.

"Well, were you ever in jail?"

"Yes."

"Were you ever electrocuted?"

"Yes."

"Will you pay for the cigars if I lose?" Curtain.—New York World.

Cause For Thanks.

Small Elmer, who had just received a severe scolding, said, "Am I really so bad, mamma?"

"Yes, Elmer," she replied, "you have been a very, very bad boy."

"Well," rejoined the youngster after a moment's reflection, "you ought to be thankful that I ain't twins."—Chicago News.

Beyond the Husband Stage.

"You say you are your wife's third husband?" said one man to another during a talk.

"No; I am her fourth husband," was the reply.

"Heavens, man," said the first man, "you are not a husband; you're a habit!"—Ladies' Home Journal.

Lady—Why do you give me this bit of paper? Tramp—Madam, I do not like to criticise your soup, but it is not like mother used to make. Allow me to give you her recipe.—Fliegende Blatter.

We don't begrudge Old Sol his vacation. He surely has been working hard enough.

S. Huggins has returned from Chicago. While there he says he saw a good deal of some of the society women who were out riding, not that he saw many of them, but those he did pipe off were in low necks.

Which reminds us that we once heard a young lady asking for some insertion for a square neck. And we know it wasn't for herself for hers was plump and round.

Branching Out.

Illinois State Journal—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Branch, a son.

A Short Sketch.

Some unknown contributor made a three sacker with this: Three young ladies, camping along the banks of Rock river, became lodged on a sand bar near Grand Detour, and were drawn off by an artist.

Should Try Restorer.

It is said that there are some hotels which advertise hair mattresses, which the guests claim must be troubled with baldness.

Weather Changes.

The physician, upon leaving the house, had instructed the wife to take her husband's temperature the next morning and then call him up and tell him the result. Accordingly she called the office about 9 o'clock the next morning, and nearly broke the doctor's heart with this: "Doctor, I put the barometer in his mouth, and it went to 'Very Dry,' so I gave him a pint of beer and he's been at work all morning."

HARMON

Harmon, July, 3.—Farmers are very busy now cutting their wheat and making hay. The town seems almost forsaken, only in the evening a few come in to do their trading.

Wheat is good this year both in quantity and quality. The fields are well covered with shocks of the gold en grain. Corn never looked any bet ter at this time of the year. It is now nearly ready to tassel out and some of it is nearly five feet high and of a dark green color.

Garden vegetables are immense, potatoes are better than at first thought they would be. Fruit of every kind is in abundance. Harmon seems blessed in every way this year always getting rains about the time they are needed, not giving floods to drown out the crops as usual in the vicinity of Harmon.

Harmon has been without a black smith for some time. One is needed here all the time as there is something to do in that line.

The carpenters are very busy at this time building houses and barns, also putting improvements on old buildings where needed.

Clyde Wise is the happy father of a young son which came last week.

Our people have been putting up fruit when it is plenty, so that in an off year they have plenty.

The members of the Methodist church have been remodeling and cleaning the church edifice This they do every year, also put repairs on where they are needed.

Hettinger is quite busy most of the time grinding fefed for the farmers. Many of them feed ground feed to their stock most of the time.

Mrs. Frank Davis who has been away visiting for some time, returned home last Thursday evening.

Miseries of the Red Sea.

In the waters of the Red sea the cessation of the engines on a steamer for an hour means extreme physical suffering for passengers; for a day it would involve absolute torture. The wind which prevails every day is a hot, asphyxiating blast, and its continuous directions are from north and south toward the center. As a result every passing vessel is subjected to two days of almost intolerable heat, followed by two days of comparative comfort, but instances have been known of crowded liners being compelled when traveling with the wind to turn round and steam back for an hour or so in order to give the passengers even a brief respite from the sufferings induced by the dull, dead, unbearable atmosphere.

What Twice Half Might Do.

Fred Douglass, the colored orator, at one time made a speech in Ohio. Just after this speech he overheard two Irishmen talking.

Said one Irishman, "That's a moighty phoine speech for to be made by a nayger."

"Ah, yes, it was quoite phoine! But he is only half a nayger."

"Well, if half a nayger can make such a speech phat the divil kind of a magnificent speech would a whole nayger make?"—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Crab That Makes Its Own Wig.

There is a small crab found upon the English coast that is so afraid of his enemies that he has found out or has perhaps been taught a clever way to hide himself. The writer once saw one of these crabs which was kept as a pet, and he was lucky enough to visit him when he was in the very act of making his wig. The crab first tore off a piece of green ribbonlike seaweed with his pincers and put one end in his mouth. This he sucked and nibbled and moistened with some kind of glue that hardens under water, and then he pressed the sticky end upon his back. By and by his broad back was covered with a regular green and waving wig, so that as he crawled about he looked like a bunch of seaweed in gentle motion. We must suppose that he makes a very sweet mouthful for a hungry fish and that he makes the wig to preserve him from being gobbled up. From time to time the wig requires repairing, of course.—Raja Yoga Messenger.

SYSTEMS COUNT IN BASEBALL

Players Fall Under Some Managers and Star With Others.

IRA THOMAS' CASE CITED.

He Was Failure With New York and Detroit, but Now Shines With Philadelphia Under Connie Mack—Lord Is Another Example.

By TOMMY CLARK.

System undoubtedly means much in baseball. Players who are failures under one manager often develop into stars under another. There are innumerable instances of this, and as might be expected the manager who improves his players also has a winner.

Take Ira Thomas of the Philadelphia Americans for instance. He was nothing more than an ordinary catcher when Mack got him. Both Clark Griffith and Hugh Jennings tried him and found him wanting, and yet under Mack he became one of the leading catchers of the country.

Briscoe Lord of the same team was never a star with any other club, but under Mack he has proved a most valuable individual.

The St. Louis Cardinals have three ball players, and they are perhaps Bresnahan's most valuable men, who were turned down by Clark Griffith. Huggins, Mowry and Oakes are doing much to keep that team in the National league race, and yet they were not good enough for Cincinnati.

The manager who simply lets his ball players do the best they can without ever making an effort to improve them cannot expect to be cutting any figure in a pennant race. The ability to recognize talent and develop it makes winning teams. The mere sitting on the bench and directing a team's play does not require ability or bring success.

No manager can win without material, but a great deal depends on what he makes out of the players he has under him. Players like Collins, Baker, Oldring and others on the Philadelphia list were fortunate to get started under a man like Mack, for he undoubtedly is responsible for their success.

BELGIANS MAY ROW HERE.

Mayor Fitzgerald Plans Novel Fete For Uncontested Cup.

Mayor Fitzgerald has a new idea as a means of getting rid of the $500 city of Boston trophy ordered for the Boston-Bermuda yacht race that never came off. When he arrived in Brussels recently he invited the Belgian eight oared Henley victors of the last two years to visit Boston next year and compete in a triangular contest on the Charles with Harvard and Cornell, the winner to take the Boston cup.

Catcher Meyers Is Improving.

Notice that Chief Meyers of the Giants is doing pretty well for a man regarded at one time as a "joke" catcher. He always could hit. He is throwing as well as any of them, and he ranks second in fielding among the National league backstops with an average of .988.

PITCHER PERDUE TELLS OF STINGIEST BALL TOSSER.

"Hub" Perdue of the Boston Nationals tells of a ball player who achieved considerable popularity with fans in the south, but who was not popular with his waiter for the simple reason that no tips were forthcoming during five long seasons. One day Mr. Ball Player and George had the following conversation:

"You going to be here right along, George?"

"Yassar."

"All right. Then I'll be seeing you."

The waiter scratched his kinky locks and then had an inspiration thusly:

"Ah been seeing you for five years, but you all hasn't seen me yet. Ah wish Boston done graft you."

THE DIFFERENCE IN COLLEGE AND BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL

What makes the great difference in pitching college or minor league ball and facing major league batsmen is the fact that in this company the batters insist on getting the ball over the plate. They do not bite at anything that is dished up, soon have a pitcher in the hole, and when he is forced to aim it over of course no difficulty is experienced in hitting him. There are any number of no hit games pitched in college baseball, and yet these same pitchers would stand but a slight chance to make good in a major league. College teams do not hit much as a rule, and an ordinary pitcher often looks like a star in that company. The fact remains that the college pitchers who have made good in the big leagues have come not from the big colleges, but from some of the more remote institutions.

SCHULTE GREAT HITTER.

Cubs' Outfielder Makes More Home Runs Than Any Other Player.

If the National league ever adopts the "pinch hit" column in its scoring, so that a record may be kept of the number of runs a batter has driven over the plate, then Frank Schulte, right fielder of the Chicago Cubs, will set up some new marks for sluggers to shoot at.

Schulte not only hits his homers with alarming frequency for the opposition, but he hits them when they count, multiplies them fourfold in the run column—in other words, he makes that baseball dream come true, a home run with the bases full. In 1910 Schulte and Fred Beck, then with Boston, tied for home run honors in the National league with ten each. There is no record kept of how many runs these long hits scored, but it is a safe wager that Schulte, with his penchant for hitting with men on, sent many more over than did his rival for honors.

SCHULTE, CUBS' STAR HOME RUN HITTER

This season with a lively ball Schulte is out to break his home run record, and if he keeps up the percentage for games played he will have about double the number of homers he registered last year. As veterans go nowadays on the Chicago Cubs, Schulte is a "veteran," though he is a newcomer compared to some of the men that made that great team famous. He joined the Chance machine in 1904. He is one of the Cubs who positively refuses to "go back," for his work this season has been about the best of his brilliant career.

They Never Come Back, Says McGraw.

"No ball player," says John McGraw decisively, "who has been out of the game for two or three years ever comes back.

"Whisky drinking players or fighters never come back. Whisky kills the brain."

Pitcher Jack Powell's Long Career.

This is Pitcher Jack Powell's fifteenth year in the big leagues. Up to 1911 he pitched in 450 games, winning 229 and losing 221.

BUY OLIVER TYPEWRITER

What! Actually buy outright the $100 Oliver Typewriter for Seventeen-Cents-a-Day?

Yes, sir---that's the proposition on the new model Oliver No. 5, the Standard Visitble Writer.

We not only invite you—we urge you—to take advantage of our Seventeen-Cents-a-Day Purchase Plan.

This plan was devised for the benefit of the many thousands who are renting machines or doing with out them for lack of the ready cash.

In selling you an Oliver Typewriter we meet you more than half way. A small cash payment brings the machine. We willingly wait while you pay at the rate of Seventeen-Cents-a-Day.

We don't want a cent of security. Just your promise to pay is enough.

Thousands Sold for 17-Cents-a-Day

Since we began selling typewriters on this broad-guage plan our business has more than doubled. Tons of metal have been turned into thousands of typewriters and sent all over the world to supply the demand for Olivers—at Seventeen-Cents-a-Day! We have ample capital and confidence to sell typewriters on this plan. Our losses are infinitesimal. The public has justified our confidence in such an impressive manner that today we are just as glad to book orders on the "Penny Plan" as we are for all cash in advance.

Swiftest, Strongest, Simplest, $100 Typewriter

The speed of the Oliver sets a pace that has never yet been excelled. Its strength and endurance ar such that it serves you efficiently for a lifetime. No other machine in the $100 class compares with it in simplicity, for we do away with hundreds of parts used on other standard typewriters. The first crude model of the Oliver Typewriter was built from an old wash-boiler and the type of a country print shop. The machine was a curious looking affair, but the principles embodied in its design were destined to revolutionize the typewriter world.

The OLIVER Typewriter

Model No. 5 Wins World's Applause

This model has captivated the public by its wealth of exclusive features which save time and effort, add scores of new uses, and give tremendous gains in efficiency. The new "coat of mail" protects important working parts from dust, gives added strength and stability. The disappearing indicator shows exact printing point and ducks when type strikes the paped. The Vertical and Horizontal Ruling device is a wonderful convenience.

The Automatic Tabulator and the Line-Ruler are Twin Devices. Each supplements and completes the other, in tabulating, invoicing and all kinds of statistical work. The Balance Shifting Mechanism, the Automatic Paper Fingers, the Paper Register, the Back Spacer and other innovations put the finishing touch of perfection to this incomparable writing machine. You get all these immensely valuable improvements, without additional cost, when you buy the Oliver Typewriter for Seventeen-Cents-a-Day.

Send for Book and "17-Cents-a-Day Offer NOW!

We have told you, very briefly, about the machine and the Plan. Free books giving details in full, are yours for the asking. If you are a salaried worker the use of the Oliver Typewriter will increase your efficiency and force you to the front. It has helped thousands to better salaries and more important positions. If you are in business for yourself, make the Oliver your silent partner and it will do its full share towards the development and success of your enterprise. Whether you wish to take advantage of the Seventeen-Cents-a-Day offer or not, you should have a copy of the Oliver Book and become better acquainted with the ypewriter that has made itself indispensable to the business world and broken all records in sales. If you own "any old typewriter," we will accept it in lieu of the first payment on the Oliver Typewriter.

MYRTLE MEADOWS

"Dear Jean—I wish will all my heart that you could be here with us. It is simply glorious—the freedom, the restfulness, the thought that one may spend long, beautiful, lazy days with nothing to do but be happy.

"No grim, type-writing machine staring one out of countenance, a constant reminder of monotonous duties and work unending. No woman-hating employer with steel-blue eyes and patrician features to remind one that he is hand-painted, three-fired French china, and you are only the commonest of kitchen pottery.

"Thank goodness, that is all left behind in the old real estate office in Chicago, and Hazel and I revel in our liberty, eating crisp vegetables just from the garden, devouring plump, fried spring chickens and golden, clover-flavored butter, and then we bathe and fish to our hearts' content.

"You see we are boarding in the dearest old farmhouse. We couldn't afford to go to one of the fine Delevan Lake hotels, and now we are glad we couldn't. We can wear our kimonos to our noontime dinner if we choose; we row on the lake, ride the fat old horses and Hazel even tried once to help milk the cows, but she made an awful mess of it.

"Then we read and whistle and sing and string beans and hull peas, and this afternoon we put up a good joke on some one, we don't know who yet. We were helping Mr. Brown pack some baskets of the biggest, most luscious blackberries you ever saw in your life, when I was seized with an idea, and Hazel and I wrote the softest, mushiest gush of a note that we could manufacture and signed two men's names to it—John Hastings Dalrymple and Frank Huntington, giving the Delevan postoffice as our address.

"We said we hoped our little white-winged messenger might fall into the hands of two sweet maidens 'fancy-free' and begged if it should that they would write to us. We read the note to Mr. Brown and he laughed till his fat sides shook and promised not to give us away if he ever found a letter at the postoffice for the sentimental young men, so now we're expecting bushels of fun out of it.

"If any girls at one of the big hotels should happen to buy that basket of berries and answer that note won't they feel too silly for anything after they find out how they've been fooled? Of course, we wouldn't have gotten up such a correspondence with strange men, but it will be all right with girls.

"How I hope some haughty, aristocratic young ladies who would scorn a common girl stenographer may fall into our trap.

"Can't you come up for a week at least while we girls are here?

"With no end of love.

"Myrtle Meadows."

"The Lilacs," June 25th.

"Dear Jane—What a dear you are to answer so promptly, and such a bright, newsy letter! Why I felt as if I had been having a jolly time in Chicago myself, when I had finished reading it. You were perfectly right in dismissing Howard. A man who drinks to excess before marriage, isn't apt to quit afterward, and it pays to stand firmly by one's principles. I'm sure I shall, always.

"Of course, it is easy to be good out here on the farm where there are no temptations only—but, that reminds me, 'actually some simple girls did find the note we put in that blackberry basket, and answered it—but foolish things!

"But their note wasn't nearly so gushing and sentimental as ours, and what do you think? They dared to lecture us on our impudence in wanting to get up such a correspondence. They said we might easily get our affections entangled by regular adventuresses, and that we ought to be thankful to have fallen only into the hands of girls just graduated from school.

"I tell you we both felt rather small and mean and silly ourselves after we had read that sage letter, but we were somewhat comforted by the closing page that grew quite poetical and friendly, even if it was unsophisticated and school-girlish.

"And they assured us that they felt a friendly interest in our welfare, that they almost envied us our busy, happy life in the country, that they felt sure that at heart we were good and brave and true men, and finally consented to keep up the correspondence.

"So, while it isn't just as we expected, it will be great fun to fool them anyhow.

"I am so sorry you can't have your vacation before August, but you must be sure to come here to board even if we are gone. Lovingly.

"Myrtle Meadows."

* * * *

"The Lilacs," June 28th

"Dear Jean—Thank you so much for the books and papers and the little turn-down collar that is so neat and dainty it will always remind me of the thoughtful friend who made it.

"Hazel and I are becoming quite excited over our correspondence with those strange girls. They are developing wonderfully, and we find them very congenial and wonderfully interesting. I can hardly wait for their letters to come, and Hazel is just as eager.

"We feel now that we'll never be contented until we meet and have made friends of them, though of course they are not doing right by corresponding with supposed-to-be strange men. That's the only thing we don't like about them.

"We get a letter from them every day, now. They are staying at The Highland hotel, and we want to get Mr. Brown to drive up there with us some day this week, to see if we can't pick out our unknown correspondents.

"I'll let you know what happens if we go. Myrtle Meadows.

"Oceans of love."

* * * *

"The Lilacs," June 30th.

"Dear Jean—We went, but we don't know whether we saw or not, and we're sure we didn't conquer.

"We were all eagerness and eyes when we went into the big hotel dining room, and not a girl escaped our scrutiny.

"Finally we selected two sweet, refined-looking girls as our strange friends, and as we passed their tables on our way out, Hazel purposely caught her foot in the tailor-made skirt of one of them and stumbled and apologized most gracefully in a way which would have made any ordinary girl say something in reply.

"But that girl merely acknowledged the apology with a cold nod, and began talking to her friend again as unconcernedly as if we had never existed.

"Hazel blushed furiously and I felt awkward and uncomfortable, and just then I happened to look across the room, and there sat Mr. Ried, my handsome employer, you know.

"He gave me such a queer, piercing look, that I felt as if he could see right through our little sham, and I was glad to hurry out of his sight, barely returning his bow.

"And that's all there was to reward us—no romance, no anything but disappointment.

"We're determined to meet those girls yet, though, and I'll tell you later how we are going to manage it.

"You're in luck to have had your brother give you such a lovely dimity gown, and lavender is your color.

"We are going after ferns now. Good-bye, dear heart.

Myrtle Meadows.

"The Lilacs," July 5th.

"Jean McIntosh, you'll never, never guess what a perfectly awful thing has happened! I'm so shocked and ashamed and surprised that I can hardly write at all.

"We wrote and asked those girls to meet us last Thursday afternoon underneath a certain peculiar old tree halfway between the farm and 'The Highlands.'

"We didn't really believe they'd do it. Somehow, judging from their letters, we thought they were girls who wouldn't do such a rash and improper thing; still, we hoped they would come, and realizing how foolish such an act would be.

"We asked them to each wear a red, red rose, and said that we would wear red roses, also, and that very afternoon we got a reply saying they would be on hand Thursday afternoon.

"We were both glad and sorry; glad that we were to really see them at last, and sorry that their womanly instincts had not prevented them from consenting to meet two strange young men, even if they were simple farmers.

"We decided to give them a lecture for their lack of prudence when we met, and then be friends forever after.

"So we put on our prettiest gowns because we wanted to make a good impression, you know, and went gayly to our trysting place.

"Oh, Jean, it's dreadful to think of even yet, and hot, cold, horrified, delightful little chills and thrills run up and down my spinal column as I write of it.

"When we reached the old gnarled tree with its rustic seat, bird-concert, and glossy green leaves, we found—not two pretty, half shy, blushing girls as we had expected, but Mr. Ried and Dix Donahue, Hazel's long-time friend and admirer, and each wearing a triumphant smile and a red, red rose.

"We saw how it all was in a minute. They had bought those berries, had read that note, and Mr. Ried's familiarity with my handwriting had betrayed our plot, at the very beginning.

"Well, you can imagine how we felt—maybe. I just stood there with the blood coming and going in my face, frightened till I was afraid to raise my eyes, while Mr. Ried came forward and took my limp hands in his strong ones in a way that made my heart almost choke me.

"Hazel and Dix began by laughing merrily, but they disappeared so soon afterward that I could scarcely believe they had ever been there.

"'So this is my friend, John Hastings Dalrymple, who writes enchanting letters to strange young ladies, is it?' said Mr. Ried.

"And to save my life I couldn't think of a thing to say, and—and—could you be my maid of honor the tenth of next October, dear Jean? Your happy, happy friend.

Myrtle Meadows.

GREATEST GAME EVER PLAYED

Recent Detroit-Chicago Battle Will Never Be Forgotton.

TIGERS' WONDERFUL FIGHT.

With Score 13 to 1 Against Them Jennings' Warriors Made Most Phenomenal Finish In History of the National Game and Won Out.

If there be any animal that possesses greater gameness and greater skill in fighting against overwhelming odds than the tiger, then the popular name for the Detroit baseball club ought to be changed. For the past four seasons the club has displayed wonderful fighting spirit against big odds, but in a game with the Chicago White Sox at Bennett park, Detroit, on June 18 last the Tigers played and won the greatest battle in the history of baseball. There never was a struggle like it before, and there probably never will be another.

The score stood 16 for Detroit and 15 for the White Sox when the great game ended. These figures, though large, are not particularly impressive, for there have been a lot of major league battles in which the runs have been about as numerous on both sides. The point is, however, that when the Tigers went to bat for their fifth time the count was 13 to 1 in favor of the enemy. If a ball club isn't licked when its opponents are a dozen runs in front, with only five more periods of batting remaining, at least its prospects of escaping said licking aren't sufficiently brilliant to encourage extensive betting.

In this exciting game the Sox piled up seven runs in the first inning, three in the fourth and three in the fifth, the Tigers the while landing one lone tally—then began the fun. In the fifth started a series of batting rallies by Jennings' terrors that gave them four runs in that inning, three in the sixth and five in the eighth. In the meantime the Sox in desperation had added two more to their count in the seventh, leaving the score at the beginning of the ninth at 15 to 13 in favor of the Sox.

Jennings used eighteen men to turn an impending rout into a brilliant victory, and the climax came in the ninth in such thrilling fashion as to rouse the fans to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

Hughey had nearly exhausted his reserve forces in three previous rallies, but his resources seemed unending. He sent Lathers to bat for Mitchell, who had stopped the visitors' hitfest in the eighth inning. Lathers fanned, but Jones, another pinch man, waited and then drove a single to center. Bush followed with a single to left. Then came the king of hitters, Ty Cobb, and the fate of the game for the Sox hung in the balance. The crowd went frantic with enthusiasm to think two men were on the bases, one out and the old reliable one at bat.

In this emergency Cobb had two strikes called on him and was angling after a hit when Walsh threw a spitball on the outside and low. Cobb hit the ball sharply to Lord and raced for first. Lord knew the runner and scarcely took time to steady himself. His throw was low, and Collins never helped him out of the hole. The ball rolled to the bleachers, and Jones and Bush romped home with the tying runs. Crawford laced a ball to the center field fence, scoring Cobb with the winning tally and ending the most remarkable game ever played on the diamond.

It was surely a phenomenal game. To overcome so great a lead speaks well indeed for the Tigers. It shows Jennings' team to be one which does not give up a fight under any circumstances. For this state of affairs Jennings alone is responsible. He never quits. Regardless of what the score may be Jennings is on the lines working his hardest. He inspires his players with the never say die spirit, and many is the game which the Tigers have won when but for Jennings defeat would have been accepted as soon as the opposing team gained a formidable lead.

Jennings has proved he is in a class by himself in the American league as a strategist and manipulator of men on the diamond when the occasion demands something out of the ordinary. He manipulates his men in an important battle as a chess master would move his pawns, with a view of a final climax in a checkmate.

The recent game also illustrates why Detroit is leading the American league race. It is not the great pitching or the defensive strength of the Tigers that allows them to win, but their really wonderful run getting proclivities. It is, of course, a great hitting team, but as a rule the Tigers get more runs for their hits than does the average ball team. On the bases it is undoubtedly the strongest team in the circuit. Jones, Bush, Cobb, Crawford and Moriarty can all run the bases, and, what is more, they are constantly at it. And also the team is made up of hustlers. Under all circumstances every man is on his toes and doing the best he can to help his team. With high grade pitching the Detroit team would simply walk away with the flag this year, but with a staff of twirlers which is none too certain Jennings will have a hard fight on his hands.

HAPPY RESULTS

HAVE MADE MANY DIXON RESIDENTS ENTHUSIASTIC.

No wonder scores of Dixon citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Dixon by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. A. Wahlgren, 1222 W. Sixth St., Dixon, Ills., Says: "I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills are the most reliable kidney medicine to be had and I know whereof I speak when I endorse them. Kidney complaint caused me much suffering several years ago and nothing brought me relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros. Co.'s drug store. The contents of three or four boxes entirely removed the pain in my back and corrected the trouble with my kidneys. My strength and energy was restored and the uric poison in my system was removed. I am very grateful for what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me." (Statement given April 30, 1907.)

Re-Endorsement.

Mrs. Wahlgren was interviewed in January, 1910, and she said: "You are at liberty to continue the publication of my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys are now in good condition and I have but little trouble from my back. During the past two years I have used Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and they have always been of benefit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's — and take no other.

during the year.

The city now has and always has had the privilege of making full payment of the unpaid portion of the purchase price due to Mrs. Steel at any time they desire, hence if they wish to relieve themselves of the burden of paying interest they may do so immediately by paying the balance due on the contract. The mere fact that a considerable amount of interest has accrued on a contract that has been running for eight years at five per cent interest, is due neither to the fault or poor judgment of any one but is merely an example of the earning power of money invested at interest.

At the time the contract was made a considerable number of lots remained unsold in the old portion of the cemetery. These lots in the old cemetery are now nearly all sold and those in the new portion will sell rapidly enough at the present rate so that the balance due to Mrs. Steel will soon be paid in full and the city will still have some seven or eight hundred lots to be sold at a clear profit.

In my opinion the agreement is perfectly fair and just, and very advantageous to the city, and I believe that it will be likewise considered by any other competent person, who gives the matter thought or attention
